A Center of Quality Education

Welcome to Enaraa The School

A very warm welcome to Enaraa The School. We are delighted that your child may be joining us this year. By reading our prospectus you will be given a flavor of our values and aims. Our school opened for the very first time in June 2017. Our building provides 21st Century educational provision for all our children, with many new technologies incorporated into the building. The building, however, is only one part of the story. A school is not a school without the people who work in it – the staff, the governors, the parents and, most importantly, the children – and the community that it serves. Our aim is to educate the whole child. This means establishing a happy, welcoming and motivating learning environment, where everyone can enjoy learning and value the challenges of new experiences. We provide an inclusive curriculum that is creative, innovative and challenging, to develop the whole person, taking into account spiritual, moral, social and cultural needs. We aim to create an ethos where all our children are valued as individuals and value each other. We are a school where everyone is encouraged to achieve their best. We set, expect and aim to achieve high standards.

We also seek to develop all of our children's achievements both in and out of the classroom, aiming to provide for both the individual and the team. Our aim is to enrich the lives of our children and to develop a breadth of achievement in everyone, whatever their talents.

Fundamental to the learning of any child is the relationship between home and school. I hope that through our working together, at Enaraa we will bring the genuine enjoyment of learning and pride in achievement for your child. Our school offers, an exciting opportunity to begin a child's learning journey that will develop the potential of everyone. The staff and I look forward to meeting you and working with you throughout your child's time at Enaraa.

Our Curriculum

An Outline of the subjects offered

English

Literacy and English skills are absolutely essential for every pupil as without that knowledge, children are not able to progress in other areas of the curriculum. Starting in Nursery, children are taught how to use books, to enjoy a story read to them and to 'read' their own stories. In stage 1, the school also follows the Letters and Sounds Phonics the programme which supports them as they learn to read and spell. In stage 2, the pupil's literacy skills are further developed so that by the end of year 6 all children have reached the level where they are prepared for the increasing demands of secondary school.

Mathematics

It is vital that children are able to use mathematical skills so that they can take a full part in everyday life. At Enaraa we understand how important it is that children can perform well in maths. Beginning at the very early stages, children are introduced to practical activities, dealing with situations that occur in everyday life. All pupils have daily maths lessons where numeracy skills are systematically taught and where pupils are shown how to apply these skills to solve problems. The math lab is used effectively to introduce key practical concepts.

"More than just preparing lesson plans, teach from the heart, mind and soul. That's how we should engage."

- Paul

Science

Science is developed through practical experiences relating to everyday situations. Beginning in the Nursery, children are encouraged to explore and talk about their activities, to look carefully at objects and the world around them and to use equipment correctly. You can help your child by talking to them about everyday things, for example, at bath time playing with water, visiting the park, investigating toys which move, caring for plants and animals and discussing the dangers of electricity.

Computing & Art

Children are encouraged to use the computer in all curriculum areas as another way of working. They are taught to store and print their own work. Pupils are taught how to use the Internet safely and critically. Throughout the school, children are given wide-ranging opportunities to work with different materials, drawing, painting, printmaking and making models etc.

Physical Education

Each week the children participate in indoor and outdoor PE lessons and are encouraged to develop basic skills in games and martial arts.
